Amendments to the Constitution and By-Laws

Package A involves only a By-Laws change and addresses the rather vague charge of the Publicity Committee that is stated in Section 2, Subsection J (Duties of the Publicity Committee). The following proposed amendment would be a much more accurate description of the current duties and activities of the Publicity Committee.

By-Laws: Section 2, Subsection J

Current Wording: "The Publicity Committee shall publicize the existence and activities of the Society and the significant achievements of its members. Such publicity shall include, but not be limited to, announcements and advertisements in scientific journals, as well as releases to the lay press. Additionally, the Publicity Committee shall assist the Local Program Committee in publicizing the Annual Meeting, where such assistance is requested."

Proposed Wording: (To replace the underlined section above). Specifically, the Committee shall publicize the various research and travel awards for students and members of the Society, and the ASP research award; further publicity for the annual meeting (in concert with the Local Program Committee), and for the various types of membership in the Society shall be incumbent upon the Committee.

Package A--Passed

Package B involves only a Constitution change and addresses the rather flexible statement concerning honorary membership that appears in Article III, Section 2. The following proposed amendment would state that no more than 2% of the Society membership can be honorary members which would give the Honorary Membership Committee some needed guidelines.

Constitution: Article III, Section 2

Current Wording: "Honorary members shall be selected by the Executive Committee on the basis of meritorious service to pharmacognosy and shall be exempt from the payment of dues. Honorary members will be eligible to vote but will not be eligible to hold elective offices."

Proposed Wording: "Honorary members shall constitute no more than 2% of the total membership of the Society." shall be added to the above current wording.

Package B--Passed

JOURNALS, BOOKS AND DATA BASES FOR NATURAL PRODUCTS

Keeping current with the developments in our field is almost a full-time job in itself. Writers, publishers and data collectors are working overtime to make sure you have plenty to read.

Several new journals have emerged recently. Natural Toxins, published by Wiley-Liss, is an international research journal designed to provide a forum for original research papers covering naturally occurring toxicants. Volume One contains six issues and is available from D. Paone, Wiley-Liss, 605 Third Avenue, New York, New York, 10158-0012. The institutional rate is $195.00 U.S.; $270.00 outside the U.S. The personal rate is $98.00 U.S.; $128.00 outside the U.S. Payment must accompany all orders for journal subscriptions.

Harwood Academic Publishers is offering all members a specially reduced subscription price to Natural Product Letters. This journal covers all aspects of research in the chemistry, biochemistry and pharmacology of naturally occurring compounds and their analogues, with communications on work concerning the natural substances of terrestrial and marine sources including plants, microbes and animals. The rate for ASP members is $50.00 U.S. per volume. Subscription orders should be sent to Harwood Academic Publishers, c/o STBS, Order Department, P.O. Box 90, Reading, Berkshire RG1 8JL, United Kingdom.

The Quarterly Journal of Crude Drug Research is now being published under the title International Journal of Pharmacognosy by Swets & Zeitlinger bv. This journal publishes papers concerning contemporary pharmacognosy. Individual subscriptions should be sent to Swets & Zeitlinger, P. O. Box 825, 2160 SZ Lisse, the Netherlands. The subscription price is U.S. $290.

Food Products Press, an imprint of The Haworth Press, Inc. has recently brought out two new journals. The first, Journal of Sustainable Forestry, edited by Dr. Lyle E. Craker, encompasses topics from biotechnology, physiology, silviculture, wood science, economics and forest management. Subscription rates are: Individuals—$28, Institutions—$36, Libraries—$48. The second, Journal of Herbs, Spices and Medicinal Plants, edited by Dr. Graeme Pierce Berlyn, concerns itself with the botany, chemistry, horticulture and pharmacology of these plants. Subscription rates are: Individuals—$28, Institutions—$32, Libraries—$42. Orders may be sent to The Haworth Press, Inc., 10 Alice Street, Binghamton, New York 13904-1580.

New books of interest include In- terleukin-2 edited by Jonathan Waxman and Frances Balkwill. This book is part of the Frontiers in Pharmacology and Therapeutics Series published by Blackwell Scientific Publications, Inc., 238 Main Street, Cambridge, MA 02142. The price is $129.95.

A new reference book, Phytochemical Dictionary, edited by Jeffrey B. Harborne and Herbert Baxter was published by Taylor & Francis. The book lists for $350.00 and can ordered from the publisher at 1900 Frost Road, Suite 101, Bristol, PA 19007-1598. They have also published a Dictionary of Plants Containing Secondary Metabolites, by John S. Glasby. This book lists for $215.00

Biotechnology and Pharmacy, edited by John M. Pezzuto, Michael E. Johnson and Henri R. Manasse, Jr., has been published by Chapman & Hall, Inc. Orders may be sent to Ariel Haméon, Marketing Department, Chapman & Hall, Inc., 29 West 35 Street, New York, New York, 10001-2299. The price for cloth is $79.95, and for paper, $39.95 plus shipping and handling.

CRC Press has three new books available. They are: The Pharmacology of Chinese Herbs by Kee Chang Huang, M.D., Ph.D., $125 U.S.; African Medicinal Plants, Maurice M. Iwu, Ph.D., $99.95 U.S.; Bioactive Natural Products (available in September 1993) edited by Steven M. Colegate and Russell J. Molyneux; $125 U.S. All of these books may be obtained from CRC Press, 2000 Corporate Blvd., N.W., Boca Raton, Florida 33431.

To help you keep track of the information in these publications there are electronic data bases. NAPRALERT, a database of natural products literature is available on-line through phone modem or BITNET access. You can obtain information about NAPRALERT from Norman R. Farnsworth, Ph.D., Program for Collaborative Research in the Pharmaceutical Sciences (M/C 877), College of Pharmacy, University of Illinois at Chicago, 833 South Wood Street, Chicago, Illinois 60612.

"HERB" is an electronic "Medicinal and Aromatic Plants discussion list." It can be accessed through INTERNET OR BITNET. Send a "SUB HERB subscribers name surname" message to "LISTSERV@TREARN.BITNET" e-mail address. For information about "HERB" contact Mahmut Miski, Ph.D., Sterling Winthrop Pharmaceuticals R&D, 25 Great Valley Parkway, Malvern, PA 19355.

The DEREP Database is designed primarily for chemists involved with the isolation of natural products. These chemists well understand that the rediscovery of a known, biologically active compound frequently occurs when working with natural products encountered in many kinds of screening programs. The DEREP Data base aids in the recognition of previously reported compounds during the early stages of the isolation process and assures that maximum attention is given to truly novel bioactive agents. The elimination (dereplication) of these knowns as rapidly as possible is important because of the time, expense and effort that is saved. For information contact James French, 3150 Rumsey Drive, Ann Arbor, MI, 48105-1466.

Chapman & Hall have recently announced a CHCD Dictionary of Organic Compounds and a CHCD Dictionary of Inorganic Compounds, both on CD-ROM. Because current literature is continually reviewed, both databases are kept up to date and available on annual subscription with cumulative updates being released every six months. Both CD-ROMs are available on free trial for 30 days. Contact Alexa Wheeler, Scientific Data Division, Chapman & Hall, 2-6 Boundary Row, London, SE1 8HN, UK.

The DEREP Database lists data that are especially useful to chemists engaged in the isolation of new bioactive natural products from prokaryotes, fungi, higher plants, and marine organisms. We are seeking persons who are willing to participate in the maintenance of this database. Because you may set your own work schedules, this is an ideal undertaking for a retired natural products chemist, or as a joint effort of a university natural products research group.
